

The news we receive from our commercialized media is narrow and limited enough as it is. The proposed deregulation takes us in precisely the wrong direction.